BRITISH SUMMER TIME STARTS 29 MARCH

FRIDAY MARCH 20TH SAW STRONSAY SCHOOL DESERTED!

Outside on the netball court staff, students and visitors to the school were waiting for the solar eclipse. There was an interesting range of equipment, mostly homemade, as well as some welding masks being passed around so that we could safely witness this important event. In true Orkney fashion, the weather ranged from sunshine to cloud, from warmth to rain in the twenty minutes or so that we stayed outside. The cloud cover meant that we had a particularly good view as the moon crept in front of the sun. It was a marvellous experience to share with each other. All too soon, it was back inside to lessons . . . but not quite. The secondary students gathered round and watched the BBC's live transmission from the Faroe Islands.

Look out for our next report on the solar eclipse in 2090.

The next edition of the Limpet will be published on Thu 30 Apr. Items for inclusion in that edition should be submitted by 7pm on Sun 26 Apr. Contact details on back page

Curry Night

On the 7th March 2015 the Stronsay Community Play park Action Group held a Curry Night at the Community Centre. There was garlic chili chicken curry, coconut chicken curry and Thai vegetable curry. You could also get rice, naan, Bombay tatties and onion bhajis. Afterwards there was ice cream. There was a word search; Guess the sweets in the jar; 'where am I' and a curry quiz all for 50p. There was also a raffle.

Thank you to everyone who gave raffle donations; the cooks; the SCPAG and the hall committee.

LATEST BIRD SIGHTINGS

The first Pied Wagtail of the year was seen flying past Daisybank on the early date of 24th February - the usual arrival date being around 10th March. Several are now present and birds may be seen regularly at the Waterworks Pond and the Village Street where the species can often be seen striding about on the larger areas of tarmac. There have been occasional sightings of Merlin, and both Iceland and Glaucous Gull, and as if to prove how irregular such sightings of each of these species are, Joyce Maples and I saw one of each during a short drive to St John's and back on 26th February – all three within a few hundred yards of each other! A Sparrowhawk has also been seen on a few occasions – one being at Park Cottage where it caught and ate one of the local House Sparrows.

There was a noticeable influx of thrushes - mainly Fieldfares - around 10th March, the biggest flock being seen by Dennis & Wendy at Linkshouse. A few Redwings and Song Thrushes were seen around this time, and both male Reed Bunting and Woodcock were seen by Norman & Kath at Dale.

Singles of both Mistle Thrush and Stonechat (see photo) - typical early Spring migrants - arrived in the SE winds of 17th March, and a record 5 Stonechats were seen next day:- a female near the Fire Station, single males near The Kirk and along the Cleat Road – and two males together between Mt Pleasant and Cliffdale. Bird of the day on 17th however was the 'black' Gyrfalcon which flew low - below chimney height - right over Sue in our vegetable garden. This bird has been seen on and off throughout the Winter but this was by far the closest encounter of this rare 'morph' of what is a predominantly 'white-plumaged' species. The bird is clearly longer-tailed than Peregrine as noticed in all the sightings, thus ruling out a melanistic individual of that species.

Just a single Goldcrest has been recorded so far this Spring - one seen by Hazel in the Airy Garden on 19th March. A Glaucous Gull flew past The Reserve the same day, and a Slavonian Grebe – still in winter plumage was offshore on 21st when also in Mill Bay were several Red-throated Divers and 3-4 Great Northern Divers. The Bu and Matpow Lochs both hold good numbers of duck of several species at present, and good numbers of Shelduck have now arrived – at least eight in the Dale/Rothiesholm area.

Thanks again for all the calls.

LETTER FROM SCHOOL PLACE

Continuing on the historical theme with which I ended my last Letter, it is interesting to look back to how the council was constituted a century ago. In 1915, Orkney County Council comprised 27 members. The area covered by today's North Isles Ward was served by 8 councillors (almost one-third of the membership). Eday, Rousay, North Ronaldsay, Shapinsay and Stronsay each had their own councillor, Papay shared one with Westray, and Sanday had two (one for Lady and one for Cross & Burness). In 2015, the North Isles is served by 3 of a complement of 21 councillors, merely one-seventh of the membership. One hundred years ago OCC had a North Isles Committee, consisting of the 8 aforementioned county councillors and one representative from each parish council in the North Isles. The nearest thing we have to this today are the Inter-Island Air Services and Ferry Services Consultative Forums. Maybe it is time the North Isles Committee was reconstituted.

My surgery this month was a joint one with eight other councillors at Kirkwall Grammar School, where we attended modern studies classes and also ran a "drop-in" session. Some of the questions from pupils were of a general nature, such as OIC's relationship with the Scottish Government; some were specific to day-to-day concerns, such as use of the KGS rugby pitch and Wi-Fi access in the Hostel. In one of the classes a repeated topic of discussion was mental-health—a worrying development in student life since I was at school. On a more positive note, I was asked by pupils about my vision for Orkney. I said I'd like the economic opportunities to be available here to enable every one of them, once they have been away and experienced the world, to be able, should they wish, to return to Orkney to raise their own children. I stressed this is particularly important if we are to halt the population decline in the Isles. On the subject of fixed links, a Shapinsay pupil told me they were against them!

In Kirkwall, I have had the usual round of Council meetings: Change Programme Board, Licensing, and the General Meeting (at which it was agreed that the feasibility of a 3-night weekend for Isles KGS pupils will be reviewed following any substantial change to the transport situation). I have also attended meetings of the Orkney & Shetland Valuation Joint Board and the Orkney College Management Council, and I have been to Stronsay to a meeting of their Community Council.

On Eday I spent a fascinating day, together with my two youngest children, at Lichenopolis! (an event sponsored by the British Science Association for British Science Week) learning all about lichens from amateur lichenographer Julian Branscombe, assisted by Jenny Campbell on her last day as the Eday Ranger. The event was well-organised, with both fieldwork and indoor activities, and was timed perfectly to fit in with the ferry from/to Sanday. It was very kind of the organisers to invite me along.

Learning about lichens on Eday

Back on Sanday, on St. Patrick's Day I joined the primary 5, 6 & 7 classes for the annual release into Bea Loch of the tiny "Trout in the Shed" that the pupils have been rearing under the guidance of Monsieur Antoine Pietri. He tells me the alevins should have grown into fish big enough to catch and eat in about five years' time!

Using a combination of welding goggles/masks and eclipse shades retained from 1999, we were able to view the solar eclipse from the comfort of our front door. (In 1999 it was from a crowded, wet and overcast hill in the Schwäbischen Alb!). Although the weather conditions were far from perfect, our experience was not totally eclipsed. Before the kids set off for school we clearly saw the start of the first phase, and later we managed to catch glimpses through the clouds of the maximum eclipse. .

I shall be coming to Stronsay twice in April, on the 11th for the opening of Craftship Enterprise, and on the 20th for the Parent Council meeting. I'll be attending Sanday's Community Council meeting on the 28th (my 20th wedding anniversary).

UPDATE ON THE CHAPEL CONVERSION

It was our intention to have an opening day on April 11th. Unfortunately, due to the horrible weather holding up putting in the windows, some delays with materials arriving and too many tool breakdowns this is not going to be possible. Geoff and Calum have been working really hard to get everything done but Paul and I have decided it will be best to postpone the event for two or three weeks.

The business will be called Craftship Enterprise and will have a crafting room where day trippers or groups can try out lots of different paper and fibre crafts. For example: make greeting cards, quick knits or home decorations. All the materials will be available for birthdays, weddings and other special occasions.

in addition, there will be a shop selling craft materials and affordable gifts and a cafe for light lunches and home bakes.

We will be announcing a new date as soon as possible and everyone will be invited to see how the building has been transformed. It is quite different from when it was home to Cameron's combine and lots of pigeons!!

We look forward to seeing you there soon

ROUTE 66

By Ellie from Newfield

Confucious say “Comes the budding of wisdom gleaned from each day”

Well now, it's my birthday,
Clocked on another year.
Route 66 lies ahead.
Oh dear, oh dear!
Thos mini-skirts are long gone
And sadly the hot-pants too,
Replaced by thermal “everything”.
What is a girl to do?
Less of the rock & roll,
More and more early nights.
Vetoed are silk stockings
For those sensible woollen tights.
The wrinkles are true to form
Appearing—it seems—overnight.
“Age is just a number”
Did I hear that right?
Distinguished is my hair
Though ‘grey’ describes it well
Adding to the calm of age
In being elle naturelle.
The alarm clock still goes off
Ringing in my ears.
Lost now those kinky boots
Worn out down the years.
Alas now I am the tortoise
Where once I was the hare.
Way ahead is “R oute 66”,
I think I'll dye my hair!

GREETINGS, PRIVATE SALES & WANTS, THANKS

THANK YOU—DANCING

The Stronsay Junior High School Pupil Council would like to say huge thank you to everyone who supported the 'Dancing' evening on March 6th 2015. We raised £103.80. Thank you to Doris and Ingram for showing us how to attempt the dances and to Don, Keith and Gaynor for playing. We really enjoyed ourselves!

THANK YOU—THE MOTHER'S DAY GIFT IDEA

The SOS Committee would like to say thank you to parents who supported the 'Mother's Day Gift Idea'. We raised £13 as thirteen children took part.

PERSONAL EMAIL ADDRESS—CHANGE

My personal email address has changed to ricardian@claremontstronsay.co.uk. Mail sent to my old address will be re-directed but replies will emanate from the new address.

The email contact for the Limpet remains unchanged editor@stronsaylimpet.co.uk.
Bruce Fletcher

STRONSAY COMMUNITY PLAYPARK ACTION GROUP

We would like to thank everyone who supported our curry night on 7th March. The attendance was beyond all our expectations and we thank everyone for their patience with the long queue. We hope you all enjoyed the food.

We want to thank everyone who helped in anyway, including the three curry cooks (Andy, Clive and Keith), the kitchen 'staff' (Viv, Jennifer, Marion), other helpers including Robin, James, and all the Upper Primary pupils (Aimee, Aiden, Elizabeth, Joshua & Johnny) for their help organising the side stalls and raffle. We also want to give a big special thank you to Brother Louis who volunteered in the kitchen and did almost all the washing up. We couldn't have got through the evening without you.

A provisional total of around £600 was raised (although we still have hall hire to pay). Thank you again to everyone who supported us. Our next event is to be a car treasure hunt in early June. Hope to see you there!

GROUPS, CLUBS & ORGANISATIONS

BOOK CLUB NEWS

Seven people came to the initial meeting of the book club – and what a diverse range of literary tastes we had!

We discussed what we wanted from a book group, what we liked reading and which book we would recommend to others. Our tastes ranged from detective fiction, thrillers, Sci-Fi, nonfiction – particularly history - as well as historical fiction. Some of us enjoyed reading the classics and contemporary fiction while others preferred to read through the work of a particular author, or stay with a familiar genre.

- We agreed that a book club would broaden the range of books we read and introduce us to genres we had not previously considered.
- We have agreed to call the group “Stronsay Bookworms”.
- We hope to meet on the second (or occasionally third) Thursday of the month. Some people were unable to come last night as it coincided with other activities.
- We will meet at 7.30 pm for approximately one hour (for those of you who need babysitters!). This doesn’t preclude us from going to the pub afterwards...
- Via The Limpet, we will notify people of books in advance.
- The group is open to all. If you fancy reading a particular book but not others, or have read the book in the past and would like to discuss it, just turn up.

STRONSAY BOOKWORMS’ DIARY

- Thursday April 16th: “The Name Of The Rose” Umberto Eco. An historical murder mystery.
- Thursday May 14th “Notes From An Exhibition” Patrick Gale. A “psychologically astute” tale about a troubled artistic mother.
- Thursday June 11th “The Pursuit of Love” Nancy Mitford Comic tale of an aristocratic family in the inter war years.

Meet at: The Chapel, Mallett. KW17 2AE 7.30pm. This is Dianne’s new Arts and Crafts Centre and she has generously offered us the space to meet.

STRONSAY DIABETES SUPPORT GROUP

The next meeting of the Diabetes Support Group will be held on Wednesday 15th April at 3 pm at the Community Halls. All welcome. Contact Shirley for more details. Thank you.

STRONSAY STITCHERS

March: Thursday 26th Church Hall 7- 9.30pm

Usual evening projects plus

Orkney Crafts Festival 2016 - An informal discussion open to anyone who's interested. It's about a potential new addition to the Orkney festivals and it could be of benefit to the isles. Please feel welcome to come and find out more and share your views - even if it's only for a short while and even if you're not stitching.

We're an informal, friendly group of people who meet up once a month to do our own projects, chat, share knowledge & experience, learn from and support each other. We ask each person for a contribution of £2.00 towards heating & lighting and offer tea, coffee, biscuits. Anyone is very welcome. You can bring any kind of craft work, unfinished project providing it is suitable for doing in the Hall and it doesn't have to be "stitching."

Next month - April: Thursday 30th
