STEPHEN CLACKSON'S LETTER FROM SCHOOL PLACE

Reporting on the exploits of your councillor in Orkney and beyond

If I hadn't booked an extra night in Kirkwall at short notice, I would have missed the reconvening of our unexpectedly adjourned General Meeting—adjourned because Paul Wheelhouse (Minister for Energy, Connectivity and the Islands) delayed announcing the Scottish Government's contribution to running Orkney Ferries. When it came, the figure was a disappointing £5.3 million, £1.5 million less than our carefully-calculated and reasonable request. This has left us with a shortfall, which is, regrettably, having to be mitigated by a 3% increase in ferry fares from the 1st April. It angers me that the Scottish Government, which is so generous in its funding of ferries for the Western Isles, is forcing us to undermine our commitment to isles-proofing and our commitment to supporting our fragile communities with the Hobson's choice of either increasing fares on what are already the most expensive routes in Scotland or reducing what is already a woefully inadequate service. No other community is treated as badly by the Scottish Government as the communities of Orkney's North Isles are. I urge members of the public, businesses, community councils, development trusts, trade unions etc. to support OIC by writing to Nicola Sturgeon, Paul Wheelhouse and Maree Todd (our regional SNP MSP) and asking them why the Scottish Government discriminates against us and is so determined to deny us the level of transport services enjoyed by the rest of Scotland.

The two Earls meet at Loth, July 2013.

I took advantage of a quiet spell at OIC to get away from sea-going ferries for a few days and make a pre-Brexit visit to my elder son (see photograph below), who is on a year's Erasmus student exchange to the Technische Universität Graz in Austria, a country that has been landlocked since the implementation of the 1919 Treaty of Saint-Germain-en-Laye. (In World War I, Baron Georg von Trapp, made famous by "The Sound of Music", commanded U-boats in the Austrian Navy.) The Austrians may not have many ferries, but their trains, buses and trams are all wonderfully integrated and inexpensive, and travel is a joy there.

Other meetings I have attended in Orkney this month include those of the Orkney & Shetland Valuation Joint Board, Shapinsay Community Council and the Board of Orkney Ferries Ltd.

RECORDS OF A BYGONE AGE

Below is another of the newspaper reports collected by the late Jim Work of Holland and Daisybank which were passed on to me by Catherine and Myra Work. I thought his report from 1930 gives a good indication both of farming activities and also the hustle and bustle generated by the herring fishing of the time.

STRONSAY

Hoeing match

Twenty-three competitors were forward, and fine work was done at a hoeing match held at Bay, Stronsay, on Thursday evening, the 3rd inst. Mr. Stevenson, Bu, and Mr. Work, Lodge, acted as judges. Winners were; 1 James Chalmers, Castle; 2 Jas. Cooper, Siller Ha' ; 3 Wm. Stevenson, Bu; 4 Peter Spence, Millfield; 5 Jas. Chalmers, Lower Millfield; 6 Wm. Cooper, Odiness; 7 Robert, Cooper, Siller Ha'; 8 Sam Cooper, Odiness; 9 Alex. Norquoy, Whitehall; 10 Wm. Ritch, Old School.

Shipping

S.s. Ravenscraig arrived on Friday, 27th June with coal for Mr. Jas. Sutherland's hulk Watchful, and 100 casks of oil for Mr. R. Watt, merchant. S.s. Edith Bosselmann for herrings from Mr. Leslie, shipbroker, on the same day, took part-cargo at the main and west piers and at Papa Stronsay. S.s. Glenrose with coal for Messrs Leslie's hulk Riga, after discharging proceeded to the main pier to load herrings. Cured herrings caught only 12 hours earlier were shipped by this vessel. S.s. Erika Tress, Hamburg, arrived on Tuesday last week to load herring. S.s. Renalda arrived on Wednesday last, week with stock for Messrs Duncan McIver, Ltd. The vessel berthed at the firm's pier. S.s. Curlew (A.906), and S.s. Kinaldie (A.83), arrived on Wednesday last week for bait also.

A number of gutters, chiefly Irish boys, arrived on Tuesday last week, per S.s. Orcadia. The S.s. Orcadia arrived at Stronsay on Wednesday afternoon last week with Kirkwall Town Band and about 150 visitors. The weather was all that could be wished for - dead calm with a hot sun. The band, which played the Orcadia to the pier, fell in and marched up the village.

At 7.15 the band discoursed a programme of music in a park in the vicinity of the village, to an audience of several hundred - islanders and fisher people. A collection was taken up in aid of the Stronsay Public Hall Fund. The band left for Kirkwall per S.s. Earl Thorfinn.

The Royal Infirmary of Edinburgh

The annual collection for the Royal Infirmary of Edinburgh was taken up on Saturday, 29th June by pupils of the Central School. Carting and Exporting Shells

Following the article in the February Limpet about the exporting of shells, I was given some more information about this from Ingram Shearer and Garry Dennison:

Ingram recounted that Patti Spence of Airy told him about a huge amount of horse mussels from a nearby mussel bed being cast ashore around Odiness Point in January 1937. This was during what was remembered locally as ‘the Johanna Thorden gale’ when storm force south-east winds battered the islands for several days, building up huge seas that did much damage along parts of the Stronsay coastline and sadly also caused the loss of the Finnish cargo ship ‘Johanna Thorden’ and 26 of her crew when she was driven ashore on Swona on 12th January that year. Patti remembered the shells to be piled up on the shore ‘as high as the back of a cart’ and the seagulls and other birds spent a long time afterwards scavenging among the shells, many of which would still have contained mussels. Much of the shells exported would undoubtedly have been those cast up in that storm. Ingram also spoke of Jackie Groat with his ‘Bristol’ crawler carting the shells up over the shore with a trailer that had no tipping mechanism so had to be unloaded by hand!

Garry Dennison noted that, when the Ness field at Odiness Point was ploughed out earlier this year, there was an area 50 yards from the shore and about 20 yards square where there was evidence of shells mixed in with the soil which would probably have been where the shells were stockpiled after being carted off the beach and before they were carted away to the Village.

In addition to the shells from Odiness Point, shells were also exported from other parts of Orkney, notably Grimness Beach in South Ronaldsay and from Start Point in Sanday, with in excess of 3,000 tons of shells recorded as being exported from Start Point in 1948. It was estimated that there would have been several thousand tons of shells washed ashore in the Start Point area in that same “Johanna Thorden gale”. There seemed to be some confidence in the late 1940s that this trade could be an on-going business and a company was actually set up specifically to export and market these shells but it all seems to have come to an end about 1949, whether from lack of shells or changing market conditions I don’t know.

If anyone has any more information or anecdotes about this or anything else Stronsay related, I would be delighted to hear of it, either by giving me a phone on 01857 616322, emailing ian.cooper56@gmail.com or just drop in past Steenysheed.

WOMAN

By Ellie from Newfield

I am just a woman
But I can still pack a punch,
Even if it is only
What I serve up for lunch.

I am just a woman
As all women are,
Always at the ready
With an extensive repertoire.

I am just a woman
Taken from Adams rib,
An afterthought some would say
Or even an ad-lib.

I am just a woman
Producing the next generation
Without whom I might add
There would be no procreation.

I am just a woman
Invaluable I would say.
A multi-tasking goddess
Keeping man's hunger at bay.

I am just a woman
The heart of the family,
Security and comfort
Is to be found at this house.

I am just a woman
Count your blessings all males
For isn't it just a woman
Who puts wind in your sails.

I am just a woman
Such a perfect thing to be
For the hunter-gatherer
To come home to for his tea!

GROUPS, CLUBS & ORGANISATIONS

My name is Sarah Powers, and I am the new Community Wellbeing Coordinator, based out of the Stronsay Development Trust. I thought I should introduce myself, for those of you who don't know me, and give you all a bit of information about the new role.

I came to Stronsay almost two years ago on holiday, much to the confusion of everyone who knew me, as I typically like very warm climates. But it was serendipity, because it was here that I met Charlie Richings, whom I happily married in August 2018. Over these last two years I have been back and forth from the states to Stronsay several times, falling in love with the island and the community more and more each visit. And I am delighted to say that Stronsay has officially been my home since October last year.

My education and work history are wide-ranging. I studied history and nursing at university, taking degrees in both. It was while I was studying history that I first visited the UK and Orkney, thus prompting my return years later. I've worked in retail, restaurants, banking and more. But my favorite jobs included working as a nanny, as well as my nursing work. As a nurse I worked in both civilian hospitals and as an officer in the United States Air Force.

After more than a year off work, I am pleased to take up the role of Community Wellbeing Coordinator. Some of you may remember the interviews and group session held in January 2018 exploring support services for older people in Stronsay. This role is a part of the 'Enhancing Well-being in our Island Communities Project,' an initiative born from that research.

This project hopes to facilitate access to activities and services designed to enhance health and well-being. My role currently focuses on our older generations and involves:

- Researching historic and current assets and services supporting community led wellbeing on Stronsay.
- Assess how well these assets and services are meeting the current needs of the island community.
- Identify any gaps in services or assets that support community led wellbeing.

- a welcome/information pack with information on island assets and services for all ages gathered in one place for current residents and newcomers to access easily

Over the next several months I hope to have a chance to meet with many of you in the community to hear your ideas and talk more about the role. If you would like to be in touch I can be reached best by email: sdtwellbeing@gmail.com. Cheers!

CYCLE TRAINING ASSISTANT'S COURSE

*A message from Yvonne Scott, Road Safety Officer, Corporate Services, Orkney Islands Council, Council Offices, Kirkwall, Orkney, KW15 1NY
Telephone 01856 873535 Extension 2620*

“Hi All

I am organising a Cycle Training Assistants course on Tuesday 26 March 2019. The CTA course is designed to give candidates the information they need to deliver Bikeability Scotland Levels 1 (P5 pupils) and 2 (P6 pupils). It gives them the opportunity to experience the games and manoeuvres as participants, as well as demonstrating the delivery of this training with their peers prior to delivery with children. I would like to clarify that prior to the course candidates should be able to cycle competently and confidently and have access to a bike for the course.

The CTA course has a credit rating on the SCQF (Scottish Credit and Qualifications Framework) at Level 5 with one credit point. To meet SCQF requirements, the CTA course is 10 hours long: 3 hours of pre-course learning and 7 hours of contact time. I would welcome names of interested participants in order to get candidates registered and then they will receive the pre-course learning information.

If you have further queries please do not hesitate to contact me.

Look forward to hearing from you.

Regards

Yvonne”

KIRK CORNER

Locum minister—Scott Daily
Manse telephone 616286

Growing up one of my favorite holidays was always Easter, not because I got anything special, not even because of the good food my mother often made, and not just because the weather in our very cold part of the US usually started changing around Easter time. I liked Easter because of how it “felt”, it was a time of hope. I seem to often write about hope in these peedie articles, but I feel that it is something that is often lacking in our lives today, and it is something we definitely need. The great thing is that I believe we can all have hope built on something much more certain than politics, money, or religion. We can know that no matter what happens we are going to be taken care of.

Easter is a time when we remember what Jesus had done for us, He came to the earth to free us from sin, death, and fear by dying on the cross. But the amazing thing, the thing that gives us even more hope, is that He did not stay dead! He has risen! As the apostle Paul pointed out, we have hope in this life and in the life to come. My greatest wish for all who read this is that they can know the life changing hope that can be found in Jesus, He does not promise you an easy life, but He does promise to never leave you and never stop loving and caring for you. Like the Good Shepherd that He is, He does not leave us broken and hurting, blinded and stumbling alone, but instead He comes seeking us to treat our wounds and guide us safely back to His good pasture. How can a God who gave His life for us not completely desire to love and care for us? And how can a God that has the power to raise the dead, not have the power to overcome all that you might face? We can indeed have very real hope!

There will be special services at the kirk during the week leading up to Easter. On 18th April we will have a Maundy Thursday service at 7:30 pm; on Friday 19th April we will have a Good Friday service, also at 7:30 pm; and of course, we will have our Easter service on Easter Sunday at 11 am. All are more than welcome to attend as we remember the death and resurrection of our loving Saviour, for we are all alike in need of hope.

Blessings

Rev. Scott Daily

Sunday services start at 11 am unless otherwise stated.
